

Tony Blair's - Progressions - Personal Development

This aspect of Astrology covers the future and its possible outcomes dealing with 'long term' influences, describing the themes and trends of the next few years, usually for a minimum of two years. Progressions indicate internal changes that you are going through over an extended period. In other words they describe how your birth chart is developing at the present time. Your personal growth.

The report has several sections and it could be either a busy period for you with many contradictions or just a few. Within this report there is a section that deals with your 'Progressed Moon'. It is well worth paying attention to, as it shows the emotional shifts in your daily life. To get a full picture of what is happening, you must combine the outcome of your Progressed report with another method of forecasting known as Transits.

What is indicated under Progressions colours the long term, and what is being said under Transits describes how you may be experiencing everyday life whilst under that influence. If your Progressions indicate favourable periods, the Transits will indicate the ups and downs of that time, or if it's unfavourable they will indicate times of alleviation of that period or added stresses. Use as a guide only.

Progressed Report for 2004 TO 2006

What follows is your progressed report for the next few years. However, if your birth time is unknown or inaccurate, any aspects from or to the Moon, Ascendant and Midheaven will be inaccurate and therefore not reliable. All other aspects will apply, though the starting and finishing times may alter slightly.

Personality

First we shall look at how your approach to life is being modified and developed by the passage of time. Major changes in presentation and approach to life are indicated, and these events are of a very personal nature.

It is important to remember that if your birth time is not accurate, then the timing of these events will vary, as an error of four minutes in your birth time will make a difference of one year to the manifestation of the event.

Progressed Ascendant Square Saturn

During this year you are professionally challenged, both personally and in partnerships, by family members and those in authority. Responsibility, restrictions and frustration with your career and domestic life cause blockages and depression. Old issues regarding duty are coming up and will need to be dealt with. These probably come from your parents, and you are projecting them on to each other.

Neither you nor your partner is satisfied. You both need to do something professionally and socially about establishing a career and a base for yourselves so that you may be successful. This might involve buying a home or building a successful business.

You must work together right now or remain depressed and isolated for the next year or so. Blaming each other for your problems destabilises your family life, professional and social position. You need to make a decision and take a stand about where you belong socially and what you want for your family.

Progressed Ascendant Square Neptune

During this year your dreams and ideals are challenged, both personally and in partnerships, by family members and those in authority. Fantasies about your career and domestic life cause confusion and deception and old or unconscious issues are arising that need to be dealt with.

Neither you nor your partner is totally committed to each other. You both need to do something to feel safe and secure, either committing yourself to a career, or building a successful business, or perhaps having a child and making a home for yourselves so that you feel like you 'belong'.

This is a time for you to create a vision of your future success, or re-evaluate where you're going professionally and make some decisions. You must work together right now or remain confused and dependent for the next year or so.

Remaining uncommitted to each other destabilises your family life, professional and social position. You need to make a decision and take a stand about where you belong socially and what you want for your family.

Mental development

This category describes how your mind is developing, showing you what you need to learn or study next; giving you feedback about your communication skills; and information about work and your health. This progression very much involves the development of work skills, learning and health issues. If you have questions about these, study this section.

Work and talk now focuses on establishing a solid base for yourself. Therefore you find yourself thinking about family, building or moving house.

Progressed Mercury aided in 4th House

Mentally you're influenced by feelings and emotions and this gives you more depth and breadth of understanding for head and heart are linked. Now you're thinking and talking about your need to have property, and the little jobs that need to be done around your home. It's clean-up time. You're curious about your past and may want to draw up a family tree to discover your roots. The time is right to do this.

Past memories flow into your consciousness, giving you good ideas to work with and develop. This is not a very public period, but one where you work in the background, starting to build something that will bring success later. Ideas come from family and a need to make your domestic situation more efficient.

You seem to be doing a lot around the house, becoming quite a handy person. Good communication with family members, especially with your mother and women generally, can be expected, for you feel safe enough to share your feelings and thoughts.

You've become quite domesticated and may take an interest in cooking. Your daily routine now centres around your feelings, family, home or developing property, and it's a helpful time to buy/sell property, start a family, or redecorate. You want to improve your family and domestic situation and should be able to succeed during this period. This is a foundation-laying time.

Progressed Mercury Sextile Jupiter

Mentally, you are sure of what you think, and believe in yourself during these years. It's an excellent time for studying or a prolonged overseas trip. Daily life is good now. Friends are helpful, work goes well and your ability to persuade people is 'spot on'. It's great for selling or self-promotion. You're mentally optimistic and confident with a sharp mind, and constructive ideas and suggestions.

As your optimism and faith in your ability for rhetoric grows, you become quite a storyteller. People at work have faith in you, and the chances for a raise or promotion at work are indicated, if other factors concur.

Work and study go well, and interesting talks with people give you new ideas. It's an excellent time for travel or holidays. A good social life is indicated, and brothers and sisters are helpful. This is the best time for signing agreements and, if you have ever thought of writing, now is the time for it!

Feelings - daily life

The progression of your Moon maps the feeling and emotional aspect of your life. The Moon describes how you are responding to life on a day to-day basis, and will trigger other long-term aspects. If your birth time is not accurate, the events can occur a month or two later than shown here, because the Moon moves very quickly and its effect is only of a few months' duration.

These aspects are important because they affect your daily mood swings and general life experiences. While most progressed planets will stay in a Sign or House for many years, the Moon will stay anywhere between eighteen months and four years.

Therefore the Sign and House position tells you how you are experiencing daily life and what daily life means for you now. Also the Moon's progressed Sign and House position tells you what to focus on to feel that you are in the right place. It maps a 28-year cycle that shows how you are developing emotionally and feeling about yourself.

Progressed Moon is in Sagittarius

Now you tend to respond emotionally to your daily life as an expansive and free-ranging individual, with a constant desire to learn, travel and understand life. Always looking on the bright side, you become emotionally optimistic and enthusiastic, some might say loud!, a philosopher and teacher, a disseminator of information. You are now friendly, social and easy to get on with, wishing to do things with others, yet ardent and keen with a strong sense of identity.

In your daily life you need space and show a keen interest in the outdoors and sport. For the next couple of years you will probably be involved in learning and travelling. Religion, law and other cultures will also in some way play a major role in your life from now on.

Be careful of being too self-righteous and over-zealous, and watch your tendency to exaggerate your feelings and the quality that lets you take on far more than you can adequately deal with. You may have strong beliefs, though not always the facts. You are now a great storyteller.

Progressed Moon passing through the 7th House

You've entered the public arena and can experience a sort of social shock as you begin to see life from a completely different angle. Other people and relationships now influence your day-to-day life. If other factors concur during this time, you are likely to get married or form a long-lasting relationship. You learn how to be co-operative and consider other people's needs. This is indicated by the Sign, which the Moon is passing through.

It's as though during the last 14 years you have been concerned with yourself and your own inner world, but now you meet somebody who challenges this view and forces you to see the world from a new social perspective. This will last roughly another 14 yrs.

The relationships you form now will be with people who either block you or help you to achieve what you started 14 years ago. At best, you now find some fulfilment and get an idea of where you are going, personally and socially, in the future. At worst, you simply try to be nice and end up pleasing everybody but yourself.

Now you need to concentrate daily upon your social life and living with others, with a view to forming a partnership or relationships. Emotional emphasis is placed upon enjoying life and its finer points. Personal and business opportunities come through partners.

Progressed Moon will enter Capricorn in November

You make an emotional shift now, as you begin to experience day-to-day life differently and develop a changed instinctive response to life that will last for the next two and a half years. This month and the few that follow will be quite contrary as you come out of an expansive and carefree period of your life when you were focused on learning and travel, rather than duty and responsibility.

Well, now you find that you're emotionally interested in doing something about your ambitions, career and responsibilities, and you now respond with cautious and reserved feelings. You can display excellent business and managerial skills and may want to employ these in daily life. Now you are a business person, someone who is very ambitious and wishes to get on in life. Status symbols will be important to you emotionally, though these may be displayed conservatively.

In whatever you do you will present a 'poker face', never wanting to show your feelings or weakness. Others may see this as coldness and stiffness. In all that you do, you have your eye on getting to the top, so you will seldom make a business or social move that doesn't strengthen your position in life. You may begin to appear old and stern, or 'parental'. It will be important to you that you project an image of authority. Life will slow down, or be burdensome now, because of the serious and cautious feelings you're developing, there being many responsibilities for you to shoulder.

Be careful of getting caught up in too much responsibility. You have a strong sense of duty and can take your responsibility seriously. Your parents would probably have strong influence over you and your ambitions now. Business and social position is what emotionally interests you.

Progressed Moon will enter the 8th House in June

Daily life changes for you this month as you end the relationship period of the last couple of years and enter a new phase of experience that will last for the next two years or so. This transition is usually accompanied by a changing dream or vision.

You experience very intense relationship issues now in your life - issues of sexuality, power and control surface with which you either deal adequately or become caught up in. This suggests that you are going through a profound emotional time with partners, as you learn to get what you want and define your partnership.

But everything seems so extreme and involved. You feel the power struggles acutely. Emotionally, you are being taught how to let go and surrender, without giving your power away. When you get through this period you will certainly understand relationships and intimacy.

Learn to share. Life is felt, lived and experienced deeply. Feelings are sexual. In your day-to-day life you are forced to focus upon sharing yourself with your partner; this can come easily or it may be difficult for you.

Other people seem to have the thing that you need and somehow you have to negotiate with them to get it. The acuteness you feel puts you in touch with death in some form or other. Intense feelings from your past resurface, and must be dealt with. Taxes and insurances need attention.

In April Progressed Moon will Sextile Neptune

This is a mystical and dreamy time for you, when your healing and artistic abilities are awakening. At present, you are compassionate, sensitive and caring, wanting to help those in trouble. Artistic and imaginative, you are creative, especially in dance and music.

Your relationship with your mother and family is good and supportive. Women have a special influence upon you now. Religion and the spiritual world are of interest. You need to commit yourself to your dreams. Water and the sea are especially nurturing for you. These are an idyllic few months which heal any negative indications elsewhere.

In August Progressed Moon will Trine Mercury

In your day-to-day work and conversations with people you hear something to your advantage. An opportunity to further your work and study plans is presented. Health is good. It's an ideal time to buy and sell property, apply for a job, or ask for a promotion. Good relationships with family members and your neighbours can be expected.

This period is good for communications with children, and good for study. Love, and possibly a marriage proposal, is indicated. Do something creative with your imagination, and it will pay off. This will be felt both last month and next month.

This brings to an end the interpretation of your Progressed Report.

Progressed Report for 2006 TO 2008

What follows is your progressed report for the next few years. However, if your birth time is unknown or inaccurate, any aspects from or to the Moon, Ascendant and Midheaven will be inaccurate and therefore not reliable. All other aspects will apply, though the starting and finishing times may alter slightly.

Happiness love and money

Your talent in relationships, love, money and art is shown here. In this section you will find out how and where these talents are being developed now. If you're interested read on.

You've had enough of the bustles of social and professional life now and need simply to retire for a while and recharge. Therefore, most of your romantic and social life will be private and behind the scenes.

Progressed Venus challenged in 12th House

You find it difficult to get support and commitment from society as you pursue your dreams now. This creates the tension shown here for you. All your art, love life and financial dealings are done in secret or in the background, so nobody knows what you are up to. You may be underhanded and deceitful during this time, avoid this as it may lead to imprisonment or hospitalisation.

Misunderstandings arise from this; you get frustrated and don't relate and people may not understand why you're so retiring. Or you become a recluse and people don't give you the appreciation that you want and this also makes you frustrated.

You're not being noticed it's as if you are underwater or you feel like you're like drowning. You seek peace and quiet, but people may need things from you, therefore you end up disagreeable and frustrated wishing to escape, which you may do through drink, drugs and alcohol.

The trouble is that you become a secret drunk or whatever. Unexpressed desire for love and happiness turns in on you, leading to maudlin and sentimental behaviour. Stop!!! What is required now are definite boundaries and clarity there is too much vagueness in your life. Tackle issues and tasks' one by one then you will get some peace and quiet.

This will dissipate your unconscious fears and anxieties, which are affecting your relationship now. Start asserting yourself and making yourself heard. Which will deal with the conflict. Because when you're not heard you feel like you don't exist. If you don't do this you'll find that life is out of focus and you're looking through a haze.

What you want is to get back into the womb to find peace and tranquillity. The only peace now comes from being in contact with your creativity and directing it rather than trying to camouflage it. Not a good time for business but helpful for mediation and art. You have difficulties with money and lovers.

Progressed Venus Square Pluto

This is a period when partners and other people in your life highlight a need to dramatically transform how you relate to others, and how you run your finances, or otherwise face financial loss and marital separation. You or partners may be uncooperative. Relationships and money create a lot of pressure and stress right now. Intense possessiveness and jealousy are likely.

This is a time to reduce your overheads and streamline your operation. The same goes for relationships: it's necessary for you to let go of your old ways of relating and develop new ones, so you can get the best out of life, otherwise, you or your partner may leave.

You are bringing to an end an old phase of your life and need to clear up any unfinished business before you go on to the next one. If you don't do this, you may run into financial problems with old partners, insurances, or taxes. Retrenchment rather than expansion is the key word. Partnerships are stressful and challenging, and this could mark a time when partners go their separate ways.

Financial endeavours begun during this time can have disastrous outcomes and may even lead to bankruptcy. Insights during this time have far-reaching consequences. Others push you to look deeply and intensely at what you need to enjoy life, how much money you need, what sort of relationships you need, and what sort of people you want to be associated with.

Take control and change your life, rather than have change forced upon you. Sort out your priorities and learn to cooperate-operate with other to achieve them. If you don't, you will experience power plays in partnerships that will force huge changes upon you.

Avoid trying to control others for this will backfire. You may be tempted to have an affair to offset the feeling of being unloved or unappreciated. Let people know that you need to feel appreciated; otherwise this time can be lonely.

Progressed Moon is in Capricorn

Now you tend to respond emotionally to your daily life in a cautious way. You can display excellent business and managerial skills and may want to employ these in daily life. Now you are a business person, someone who is very ambitious and wishes to get on in life. Status symbols will be important to you emotionally, though these can be displayed conservatively.

In whatever you do you will present a 'poker face', never wanting to show your feelings or weaknesses now, but others may see this as coldness and stiffness. In all that you do you have your eye on getting to the top, so you will seldom make a business or social move that doesn't strengthen your position in life. You may begin to appear old and stern, or 'parental'. It may be important to you that you project an image of authority.

Life will slow or be burdensome now because of these serious and cautious feelings you're developing, there being many responsibilities for you to shoulder. Be careful of getting caught up in too much responsibility. You have a strong sense of duty and can take your responsibility seriously. Your parents will probably have strong influence over you and your ambitions now. Business and social position is what emotionally interests you.

Progressed Moon passing through the 9th House

You now need to leave home, whether actually or symbolically, as your emotional life and daily experience puts you in contact with the foreign, the exotic and the learned, showing you there's more to life than the small world that you're growing-up in. You feel the need to challenge the preconceptions and prejudices of your family. There seem to be only a few ways in which you can do this: travelling, publishing or studying.

It's time to broaden your horizons and increase your experience of life. In other words, you feel a need to travel and explore the world. You feel the need to culture yourself, to learn about all sorts of things and to travel in foreign parts, rather than just taking a holiday. If you have ever thought of writing a book or publishing something, this is the time to do it.

Religion or a philosophy to live life by becomes a need. This is therefore a good time to increase your education or to go overseas. Emotionally, you are optimistic and confident, which helps fuel the desire for adventure. The Sign the Moon is in will tell you exactly what to learn and where to travel.

Progressed Moon will enter Aquarius in January

You make an emotional shift now, as you begin to experience day-to-day life differently and develop a changed feeling response that will last for the next two and a half years. This month and the few that follow will be quite contrary as you come out of a conservative and cautious period of your life when you experienced social position, ambition and business matters, rather than freedom and friendship.

Now you find that you're emotionally interested in personal and social freedom, the future and humanitarian ideals. Therefore you respond with a need for uniqueness and independence, wanting to be different from everybody else; to be original. In your personal appearance you may dress differently, and will in some way rebel against the conventions you recently valued. Your life can do a 180 degree turn -

You become intellectual and social in your daily life, with strong feelings, ideals and views. Therefore, now a humanitarian, you have many ideas about equality and freedom, and may hold radical views. It is important that you have emotional freedom and that people respect your space, for you need room to move.

It is necessary that you make your own choices, since you now respond strongly to what others tell you to do and what not to do (often you will do the complete opposite). It is necessary that you let people know this is important and that, if they respect this, you will be cooperative and loyal, because you have become a group person. Groups will play a big role now.

Because of your newly developed intellectual nature you may be seen as an emotionally cool and detached person. Therefore, it will be important for you at times to get in touch with your feelings and not live so much in your head. Science, inventing, mathematics and the occult will be of interest to you. The future has become important to you.

Progressed Moon will enter the 10th House in September

Daily life changes for you this month as you end the adventurous period of the last couple of years and enter a new phase of experience that will last for the next two years or so. This transition is usually accompanied by a changing dream or vision. This is a time when you arrive at the top personally, and should receive the rewards of past work and efforts to achieve.

Publicly, you achieve recognition, although it may be not so much professional recognition as appreciation for you, personally, and what you've been doing for the past 21 years or so. Daily, you are now more politically and socially aware, realising the importance of position and prestige and learning how to use this. Now people seek you out and ask you to be chairperson etc. You have authority and influence; use this positively.

This time is great for business and politics, especially if the Sign the Moon is travelling through agrees. If you have not done the work to get to the top, this could now be a time of questioning, and wondering what went wrong. Perhaps you feel a little bitter and resentful as well. At your best, you are on top of the world, and know your place in it. At your worst you are still wondering, or figuring how to catch up.

Helpful circumstances and people, enable the events shown in the section on motivation to happen. Whatever has been mentioned there is powerfully focused now, and in the months that precede and follow May.

In June Progressed Moon will Square Neptune

During these months you are forced to make a commitment. You have to make a decision about your dreams and take the necessary steps based upon those dreams. But the tension can be too much for you and you may try to avoid facing that decision, escaping into alcohol, drugs, or other addictive behaviour.

There is a situation in your life that you need to face realistically; to separate fantasy from reality. You may be deceiving yourself now. Check this out. Now you are acutely sensitive and vulnerable to what is happening in your environment and daily life. This sensitivity can lead you to over-react or to imagine things that aren't really there.

You need to protect yourself from being seduced by others. During this period you will feel the need to have a break to get away and recharge. Work is more of an effort and tires you. Make sure you are getting enough rest and sleep. Relax, take a glass or two of wine, and listen to soothing music.

Psychic abilities may awaken at this period. At your worst, you want to hide and avoid responsibilities. You become evasive. This will be felt both last month and next month.

In October Progressed Moon will Square Mercury

During these months you may find yourself somewhat tense and nervous. Mental anxiety and stress makes you self-critical, 'picky' and faultfinding. Misunderstandings occur as your head conflicts with your feelings, causing you to make wrong decisions or to be in the wrong place at the wrong period.

So before you decide anything about work and study now, think carefully and check it all out. Day-to-day experiences are irritating in little ways. You have to make a decision about work, health and study. Worry can lead to health problems. Agreements made now may not last. This will be felt both last month and next month.

In October Progressed Moon will Conjunct Midheaven

You've arrived socially. You are at the top personally, and should be receiving the rewards of past work and efforts to achieve. Publicly, you achieve recognition - although it may be not so much professional recognition as appreciation for you personally and what you've been doing for the past 21 years or so.

Daily you are now more politically and socially aware, realising the importance of position and prestige, and learning how to use this. Now people seek you out and ask you to be chairperson etc. You have authority and influence: use this positively. This period is great for business and politics, especially if the Sign that the Moon is travelling through agrees.

If you have not done the work to get to the top, this could be a time of questioning and wondering what went wrong, and possibly feeling a little bitter and resentful as well. At your best, you are on top of the world; you know your place in it.

At your worst, you are still wondering or figuring out how to catch up. Over the next couple of years, you will find that your life is very public and you are sought-after to fulfil some sort of social or professional role. This will be felt both last month and next month.

In December Progressed Moon will Trine Jupiter

In your day-to-day life you feel confident about yourself now. You are growing emotionally, and feeling safe. This is a time of increase and expansion; an excellent time to invest in property, to learn, and/or take an overseas trip.

You may feel like moving home, or increasing the size of your family. Opportunities for social growth occur, especially through contact with women.

Family members (and your mother in particular) are helpful. Home life is good. This 'lucky period' will help you make the most out of whatever is happening in your horoscope, and will protect you from other contradictory indications.

Every cloud has a silver lining! Foreigners are helpful now, and provide an interesting love interest. This will be felt both last month and next month.

This brings to an end the interpretation of your Progressed Report.
